FOOD FROM AROUND THE WORLD

With such a turbulent and tempestuous past, it's no wonder Cuban cuisine is a rich fusion of different styles; inspired by America, Spain, the Caribbean and large parts of Africa. It's these fierce, disorderly and bold flavours that come together, creating a cuisine that sings and celebrates the country's diversity, colour and history. In a time where uncertainty reigns over so many aspects of globalisation, the soul and sheer inventiveness of Cuba's kitchen is a beacon for us all. It's this soul that inspires our menu; a homage to the best of Cuban, Caribbean and South American food. With a unique slant on it all, of course. It is the Cuban way, after all.

A CELEBRATION OF CUBAN CUISINE

COOKING. EATING. LIVING. FOOD HAS BEEN AN INTRINSIC PART OF HUMAN CULTURE SINCE, WELL... FOREVER.

Sharing it brings people closer. Mealtimes give us routine. From prehistoric hunter-gatherers to Henry VIII's feasts. From decorated Michelin-starred chefs to late night pizza deliveries. It's all delicious. And varied, yes. But nos trae la vida – it brings us life.

Food forms our identity. Our personality. The recipes we receive and pass on through our families; the flavours, the spices, the quirks, the way we share, they are all an important part of who we are.

Look around the world.
India is renowned for exotic
spices in rich, aromatic curries.
Italy for hearty pasta, lasagne and pizza, all perfected over generations, through practice and familiarity. Argentina is famed for incredible steak, where cattle are reared with care, free to roam on grassy plains. Traditional cuisine speaks volumes about a country's history, culture, customs and traditions. And it's no different on the island of Cuba.

It may be without clear definition, but Cuban cuisine delights all the senses. Cultural clashes and tumultuous histories could result in a national menu that is confused and afraid of itself, however in Cuba that's far from the case. In fact, the weathered-yet-bright optimism of the Cuban people shines through in every dish. Years of national hardship do nothing to inhibit this ardent nation's passion for cooking good food.

Where basic and limited ingredients are sourced from a cart in a filthy street. Beautiful flavours to be carefully coaxed from the flesh into something that brings a smile to your face. The soul. The sheer inventiveness. You can taste it all. There's so much interaction, energy, fluidity and life. This island is a place for celebrating.

And there's no better way to celebrate than with the cuisine. While it's almost impossible to take it all in, we don't blame you for trying. That's the fun part!
